James Cunningham, 70 year old Joe's Run resident charged with the slaying of his neighbor, Thomas Cobb on the 23rd day of last April, was snached from the gallows by the jury which heard the evidence in his case last Monday, when it recommended mercy along with a verdict of murder in the first degree. The verdict came shortly after five o'clock and about an hour after the arguments in the case had been closed and the jurors retired to their rooms to deliberate on the evidence. All the members of the jury filed into the room an hour after they had retired, the jammed court room and gallery were silent and the men and women leaned forward to catch the words, which would mean the fate of the man, who had gone on the stand in his own defense and proclaimed at the end of his story that "I have told it all, just as it happened".

Least perturbed possible among the four hundred who looked on this scene was Cunningham himself, who had been confident that a jury would not take his life after they heard his story, but who had said to newspapermen that he was ready to "pay the price" and that at his age most any degree of murder which would be brought against him would mean life. After hearing his fate, he walked back to his cell in the county jail, feeling that he had at least won his fight to be saved from the gallows and thankful in his heart that the attorney, which the court named to defend him, Oliver D. Kessel, who received no pay for his work, had fought his case courageously and had succeeded in bringing out Cunningham's side of the story.

Judge Miller did not go through the formality of sentencing the man Monday afternoon because that would be only a formality as the jury, by its verdict, had made it mandatory that the sentence be life in prisonment. Cunningham, despite his age and his weakened condition due to the long summer days of being behind jail bars, bore bravely during the day. Only once did he appear to be overcome by emotion and that was when Corporal Beckett, in giving testimony, said that he had talked with Cunningham and that he said, among other things, that he prayed each morning and that he had prayed for "Tom that morning". He soon regained his composure however, and when he took the stand he told his story which differs only in minute details to the one he told officers and newspapermen on the day of the crime. He said in his testimony that Cobb had been making love to his wife, that he saw him leave the home on two occasions and that on Tuesday evening prior to the Thursday morning when the killing occurred, he came home and saw Cobb hugging his bride of only seven weeks. He said his wife denied the affair but that he took her back home the following day, spent the night before the killing in his home alone, arose early on the morning, went out to hunt the hawks which had been getting his chickens, that Cobb was late getting out to build the fence, that when he arrived, he asked him if he hadn't been telling people that he had been making love to Mrs. Cunningham, and he said that he told him that he had, that Cobb called him a liar and threw a hatchet at him, that he dodged the hatchet, fired the gun twice, Cobb was dead, and that he went to the home of John Rader, where officers arrested him something like an hour and a half later.

The members of the jury, who heard the case, were W. O. Carney, H. E. Puckett, William Sayre, A. H. Pursley, F. P. Surface, Lloyd Staats, Holly Whiting, Sam King, Arthur Young, F. D. Culver, W. S. Casto, and W. J. Flinn.

Just after the jury had been sworn in the case and the State was ready to call witnesses to testify, Juror Young became suddenly ill and was taken to the anteroom of the building by officers, where he was treated. The start of the case was delayed for about a half an hour because of Mr. Young's illness.

Prosecuting Attorney Carter Staats, asked for the death penalty and Mr. Kessel briefly outlined the defendants case, in which he said that an effort would be made to show that the act was done in self defense. Mrs. Dora Hambrick, sister to Cobb was the first witness, and she told of seeing Cunningham on the morning of the shooting and how he told her that he had killed her brother, where he had killed him and that he had shot him twice. Ardmus Cobb, 16 year old son of the slain farmer, was the next witness and he told about the man calling to him and saying that his father was killed. He also said that he saw the shooting. Sherman Cobb, an 18 years son, told about the call from Cunningham and his going to get Harrison Raines to go to the scene with him. Howard Hambrick, brother-in-law of Cobb, was the next witness to take the stand and told of threats Cunningham had made in his presence about his intentions to kill Cobb. E. C. Harmon took the stand but his evidence was not admitted because the incident about which he spoke had occurred more than a year ago at the new home of Chester Rader. Coroner C. Royal Kessel told about the examination of the body and said that his verdict was that the shotgun wounds resulted in his death. Undertaker Ralph Mills told of his preparations of the body and burial and also described the wounds. Harrison Raines testified about being called to the scene and about finding the lifeless body when he arrived. Corporal Beckett was on the stand for more than an hour and introduced the clothing, pictures, the implement which Cobb carried, the gun, the empty shells, etc., which was connected to the case. Mrs. Sylvia Cobb, the widow, was a pathetic figure as she took the stand for the State. She said that she was the mother of eight children, all of them at home, the youngest being 21 months old and the oldest 20 years, that she had never seen Cunningham over three or four times and that on the morning of the slaying he told her that he "had shot hell out of Tom, come and get him". The State rested on 1:30 o'clock. Attorney W. F. Boggess, who was assisting the prosecuting attorney, did the questioning for the State during the time the State's case was presented and Mrs. Staats conducted the cross examination for the defense witnesses. No new evidence, by either the State or the defense, was developed and it was all along the line of facts and circumstances which had already been reported in the Herald and other newspapers.

It was reported in court circles that the jury stood ten to two for murder in the first degree without a recommendation for mercy for some time during the deliberation and that finally in order to reach a verdict the ten joined the two who had held out for the recommendation and the verdict was brought in slightly more than an hour after the case had been placed in the hands of the jury.

By agreement of counsel, Judge Miller gave oral instructions to the jury, it being the first time in a murder case in the circuit that this had been done, but counsel were of the opinion that the court would deal fairly in the instructions, that they had absolute faith in the fairness and ability of Judge Miller to explain to the jurors the law in the case. This is rarely ever done in a State Court, counsel usually preferring to confine the remarks of the court to specific language. (Jackson Herald, 28 Aug 1936)

Two persons were dead last night, another's death was expected momentarily, a third was suffering from a fractured skull but believed to have a chance to live, and a fourth was injured severely but not critically, as a result of a railroad crossing accident near Akron, Ohio, Sunday afternoon. The dead and injured are: Henry Kiser, 42, killed instantly; Mrs. Holmes Stewart, 37, killed instantly; Ernest Kiser, 9, fractured skull and death expected; Mrs. Henry Kiser, a fractured skull with a chance to live; Holmes Stewart, injured but not seriously. Mr. Kiser was a step-son of Mrs. Ballard R. Parsons, of Ripley, and Mrs. Parsons and her children, Ralph Kiser and Mrs. George Walker, of Ripley, Mrs. Haze Reed, of Spencer, and Mrs. Fred O'Brien, of Sistersville, were in Akron Wednesday afternoon for the funeral services and were still in that city last night awaiting the outcome of Mrs. Kiser's and the son's cases but said that there was no hope for the recovery of the boy, according to information given them at the hospital and that his death was expected almost momentarily, but said they had been given some encouraging news about the condition of Mrs. Kiser. It was the second time tragedy had stalked across the pathway of the family of Henry Kiser. Nine years ago, one of their children was killed instantly in an automobile accident near Dennison, Ohio. The Kiser and Stewart families were on their way to Cleveland Sunday afternoon, when they were overtaken by a blinding snowstorm. Stewart was driving the Dodge sedan in which they were riding. He said that he was not driving at a fast speed, but that the snow was obscuring his vision and that the first thing he knew, he was on a railroad track and that a fast Pennsylvania train was on them before he realized what had happened. This was the last he knew. The car and the bodies were dragged down the track and scattered along for a distance of about five hundred feet before the train came to a stop. The nine year old son and Mrs. Kiser were believed, at the time, to be dying, but were rushed to a hospital. Stewart was also treated at a hospital but was found not to be seriously injured. Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Kiser are sisters. The Kiser's have two other children, Harold and Geraldine, who had not gone with the parents on the trip. (Jackson Herald, 20 Nov 1936)

Ernest Kiser, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kiser, died in a Akron, Ohio hospital last Thursday without ever regaining consciousness, after a crossing crash in which he was injured the previous Sunday evening. The father, Henry Kiser, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Holmes Stewart, were killed instantly when the car was struck by a locomotive during a blinding snowstorm. (Jackson Herald, 27 Nov 1936)

Walker, Jr. The single ring ceremony was unded and only Rev. Withrow, who performed the ceremony, Mrs. Withrow and Miss Margaret Shinn, close friend of the bride, witnessed the ceremony. Mrs. Walker is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Ballard R. Parsons, of Ripley. She attended the Ripley public schools and later Ripley High School, from which she graduated in the class of 1935. Since her graduation she has been employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and stationed at the ripley office. Mr. Walker is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Walker, Sr. of Gay. He attended the public schools at Gay and later attended Ripley High School and he too, graduated with the class of 1935. Since his graduation he has been employed by the Carbide Corp. in Charleston. The newlyweds will make their home in Charleston. (Jackson Herald, 5 June 1936)

Elaine M. Rowley, 72, of Ripley, died Monday at Jackson General Hospital after a long illness. She was the author of The News' column, Right Around Ripley. She was a retired employee of the Kellwood Company, and was a member of the Ripley Tabernacle. She is survived by her mother, Mary Slaughter Raines of Ripley; four daughters, Mary Rollins and Martha Martin, both of Kentucky, Glenna Witschy of Belleville, and Faye Skeen of Ripley; four brothers, Blaine and Starling Raines, both of Texas, Benjamin Raines of Streetsboro, Ohio, and Carlton Raines of High Point, North Carolina; four sisters, Louise Combs of Mineral Wells, Doris Randolph of Columbus, Ohio, Martha Hammond of Ripley, and Delsie Raines of Florida; 12 grandchildren, six great grandchildren, and two step great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, Lester Rowley. Memorial services are scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday at the Ripley Tabernacle, with the Rev. Orland Reynolds officiating. Her body was donated to the West Virginia University School of Medicine. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to the Lee Mays Chapter of the Ripley Poetry Society. [Note: Elaine's mother died before the service for Elaine and a combined service was held for Elaine and her mother]

[Elaine Rowley, our Ripley correspondent for the past decade, died Monday night at Jackson General Hospital. The column below had been prepared for last weekend's issue, but was left out because of a lack of space then. Elaine's mother, about whom she was writing, remains at patient at Jackson General. A Memorial Service will be held for Elaine Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Ripley Tabernacle.]

By Elaine Rowley

On Sunday, October 26, there was a most unusual birthday dinner at the Community Center at Tanglewood Villa. It was to celebrate my mother's 93rd birthday....but mother wasn't there.

She was very ill, so we tried to cancel the dinner (which had been held for the last 30 consecutive years) but mother wouldn't allow it. She wanted her family around her one more time. Everybody bought her gifts, gave her their best wishes, then all retired to the Community Center for a covered dish dinner.

There were several of mother's friends and neighbors there also. I have a list of everybody who attended the dinner, but it would be like listing the twelve tribes of Israel to get them all in print.

One guest I remember was Otho Cossin. He is a distinguished looking gentleman of 90 years. He has an out-going personality and a very clear memory of the old trail down which he and my mother came. He recited a short poem that he had written 24 years ago:

Somebody's mother is lonely today,
For all of her children are far away,
They will all greet her by card or by phone,
If you know such a mother, Dear Lord, I pray,
You'll make her your mother, just for today
Pay her a visit, take her some flowers,
Her face will light up and stay so for hours
You'll never forget the time it will take,
To show her true kindness for Jesus sake.

Isn't that a nice poem? Lee Mays Poetry Society members take notice.

I compiled a brief background for mother for the great grandchildren and great great grandchildren. It helps when the teacher asks you to present a copy of your family tree, plus, and most of them do ask for a chart on family genealogy.

We had to have such a chart and so did our children and grandchildren. One of our youngsters informed me that the whole idea was political. They believe the teacher wanted to know their background so they could push you around if you weren't somebody.

Mother is the daughter of Festus Augustus Slaughter, who was the son of Silas Slaughter of Belgrove. Her mother was Ellen Doolittle, the daughter of Ephriam Doolittle and her maternal great grandfather was Moses Doolittle.

How many of you have seen the spool half-bed at the Heritage Cottage at Cedar Lakes? That bed once belonged to my great-great-grandfather, Moses Doolittle.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Maddox of Richmond, Virginia, stayed with us Tuesday through Thursday the last week in October.

Charles and Helen Stover and daughter Jennifer accompanied Helen's aunt, Virginia Jasper of Florence, Kentucky, to Richmond this past weekend. They visited Ralph and Elsie Rowley and Pearl Williams. Ralph and Pearl are Virginia's brother and sister.

Work is progressing as well as weather permits on the Ripley Tabernacle Church, of which the Rev. Orland Reynolds is the pastor. Jeff Garrett and John Rowley are the brick layers on the church.

Mother is back in the hospital. She had a very bad time Sunday, but is slowly improving again.

We've had more sorrow up here at Tanglewood. Mrs. Nellie Casto's daughter, Dorothy Long from Colorado, passed away. She was brought back home for burial. Our sincerest sympathy goes out to the family.

Who is making the Right Around Ripley area a better place to live? Ruby Raines, Ione Kerns, Roberta Cummings, Rilla Skeen, Norma Barnett and little Mrs. Peggy Lu - this salute if for you.

The effects of burns received three weeks before when his clothing caught fire as he stood before an open fireplace, and resulting complications brought death to Randall Rex Skeen, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Skeen at the family home near Kentuck last Friday morning. The young man had been an invalid since the age of four years, his condition had not been good recently, and the burns received, while not considered of such a serious nature as to result in death, nevertheless doubtless hastened his demise. The funeral services was held from the home Sunday afternoon with the Rev. D. C. Guthrie in charge and the burial was in the Skeen family cemetery. Surviving, in addition to the parents, include a brother, Roderick Skeen of Staats Mills; two sisters, Mrs. Allene Cummings of Mt.
